TRINITY UNIVERSITY

THE

1948

Dedication

DR. F. B. ISELY

We of the 1948 Mirage respectfully dedicate this yearbook to the late Dr. F. B. Isely of the Biology Department of Trinity University. It is not only as a great teacher and a great educator that we remember him, but it is also as the helper and friend to all. His devotion to the Biology Department and to Trinity stands as a shining example to those of us who follow.

His memory will long live in our hearts and in our minds as the sincere, enthusiastic, white-haired gentleman who stood before us so many times and repeated those characteristic phrases: "Why students, let's be on our toes; and nail that point for it's as plain as the road to Bandera." He concerned himself with each of us as individuals; his feeling that each student was capable appeared in his never-ending patience; and his efficiency and energy aroused in us as students a mysterious desire to share his interest in the great biological world. The frank approach in living, so typical of our beloved Dr. Isely, was always an evident part of this kindly professor. When we think of him, we can see this world-renowned scientist bent over a microscope, worshipping in a Trinity chapel service, or dissecting a grasshopper, each with that same feeling.

So it is in the pages of this annual that we remember Dr. Isely, for he will always be a grand part of Trinity.

Foreword

The aim of an annual staff is to preserve a record of a school year's events through pictures and printed words. This is the purpose for its creation, and any ideals, ideas, and higher thoughts that it may foster are a by-product of this, important though they may be.

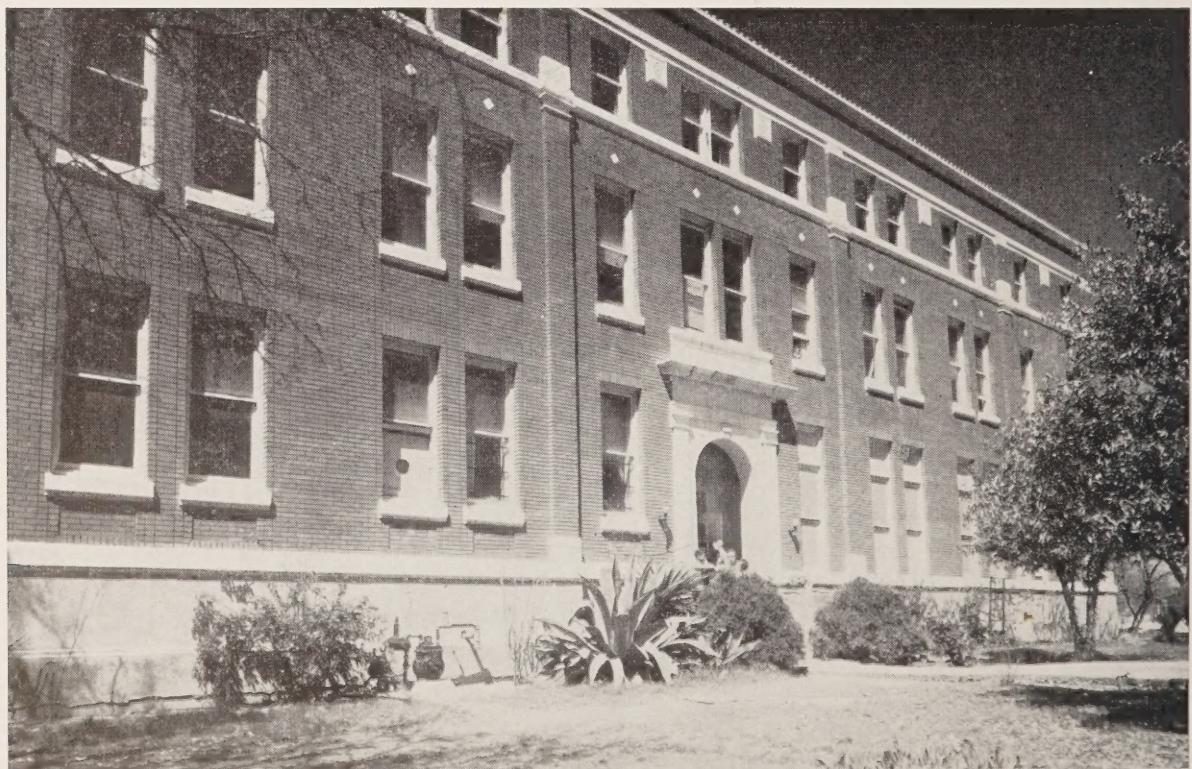

So it has been with your 1948 MIRAGE. At the beginning of the year, the staff thought of the annual as work in terms of deadlines to meet and copy to write. However, as we worked with the students, listened to their ideas, caught their moods and attitudes through photography, and watched them grow in mind and in spirit, we slowly began to see the real Trinity.

Into your book we have tried to present that intangible quality that became a part of us through knowing each of you—the Spirit of Tigerland!

DR. MONROE G. EVERETT

We are happy to extend through the median of the MIRAGE our congratulations to the publications committee of faculty and students of Trinity University this year for the exceptionally good work which has characterized the Trinitonian, MIRAGE, and various other bulletins.

The class of 1948 has set a record of accomplishments in various phases of student activity which will be hard to match in the coming years. We regret to see you leave us, however it is for this purpose that we have worked with you and have watched your growth and development during the past four years.

Commencement is the culmination of work well done. The world needs your best and we believe that you are now prepared to render a service of good citizenship and good churchmanship. Our blessings go with you.

Student Council

Under the leadership of Fred Crawford, president of the Associated Students, the 1947-48 Student Council has initiated several progressive programs which have served as further evidence of the advantages to be gained from a self-governing student body.

Beginning the year with a "bang", the Student Council, which consists of the executive committee elected from the student body at large and four members elected from the Legislative Assembly, shifted its well-oiled machinery into gear, orientated the Freshmen, provided amusing assembly periods, negotiated a special train to Temple, brought the price of cokes down to five cents, and initiated the regime of free class dances. Without a let-down, the Council continued to function efficiently throughout the year, and climaxed its activities by sponsoring the writing of a new constitution of the Associated Students.

Legislative Assembly

The Legislative Assembly consists of the presidents of all the classes, clubs, and organizations on the campus, and of the editors of the student publications. The purpose of this organization is to provide a governing body which is as nearly representative as possible. It acts as a median between the students, the Student Council and the Administration.

Although still suffering the growing pains of any infant organization, the Legislative Assembly has met and dealt with many campus problems of prime importance.

SENIORS

Solemn tributes are hardly befitting the graduating seniors of '48. They would be overshadowed by fond memories of mischievous Sophomores, striving Juniors, and hopeful Seniors. Like all American students, they have laughed a lot, cried a little, and fought together for the things they believed right for their school. Solemn tributes, no—just a gay "so long" and "gee, we'll miss you".

JUNIORS

Three years have passed since life began at Trinity for the 49'ers—three years of registration days, coffee shop lines, book store headaches, and hard-to-get assignments. Three years of walking and running, or struggling to classes, with perhaps a "cut" now and then to keep life interesting; of putting on dances which involved hard work, little money and, oftentimes, less attendance; of going to football and basketball games and yelling their lungs out and singing the Alma Mater in the stands, win or lose. Three years of being true Trinitonians, and loving and living and fighting for the school. For the spirit of the 49'ers of the Gold Rush days is reflected in the 49'ers of today—the Seniors of tomorrow.

SOPHOMORES

Having completed the second step in their journey toward higher education, the Sophomores of '48 take one last fleeting glance at the long-gone days of "fish" and "frosh". In that moment of recall they remember that first day that marked the beginning of life at Trinity University—a life filled with study, classes, clubs, new friends, and happiness. A new thrill came with the title of upperclassmen and with membership in such social service organizations as the Spurs, the Delta Kappa Phi, the Triniters. But, as they turn their faces forward toward the blue horizon of tomorrow, the dim remembrances of yesterday fade into the future awaiting them. Tomorrow they will become the Seniors of 1950, and they will have arrived at the Pot of Gold—a diploma. With the confidence of older generations behind them, not only the Sophomores of Trinity University but the Sophomores of every college and university in America smile at their past mistakes and advance forward to meet the new opportunities awaiting them.

FRESHMEN

Reminiscing of high school days now passed, the freshman class stepped eagerly into a new sphere of studies, fellowship, and fun, centered around the sputtering spirit of Tigerland. At first lost and amazed at the worldliness of the upperclassmen, the "Fish" soon acquainted themselves with the campus rituals and served their apprenticeship in school functions. Organization and recognition was an important step toward becoming a definite part of college life. This being accomplished, they advanced wholeheartedly into furthering the project of making Trinity one of the best colleges in Texas. They offered their eagerness and freshness to the campus organizations and asked in return to be allowed to become a part of the student activities. Although they began as the smallest spark on the bottom of the college bonfire, the class of '51 has proved that they are capable of carrying on the torch of "E tribus unum."

Spurs

“Once a Spur, always a Spur!” reflects the spirit of this upperclass-women’s social organization. Perhaps one of the busiest clubs on the campus, the Spurs have on their agenda for every year two formal dances, an all day picnic at Landa Park, an informal Christmas dance, various service activities, and the Frolic of Hearts.

“Where’s the hammer?” and “Is this costume supposed to fit me or me and my sister?” were the bywords on the campus for the week preceding the Frolic. However, after much confusion, bruised thumbs and rehearsals, the show, with a script for the first time, went on and was considered one of the big events of the year.

Meeting over steaks and coffee once a month for inspiration and fellowship, the Trinity chapter of the Blue Key National Honor Fraternity completes another successful year in preparing junior and senior men to meet the problems of life.

Exchanging ideas and cigarettes in the informal surroundings of a banquet table, the members of this organization have learned how to live together and respect each other's rights; more or less as a supplement to the book learning of the classroom.

Composed of any University man who has a "C" average scholastically and is elected into the club, the Triniteers is one of the leading men's social organizations on the campus. During the past year the club presented the "Esky Scandals of '48", helped build the float for the Fiesta River Pageant, and published the student directory.

Bi-monthly meetings, hay rides, picnics and other outdoor functions form a well rounded life for the club members.

Delta Kappa Phi

Having completed its second year of reorganization on the Trinity campus, the Delta Kappa Phi has once again established itself as a foremost campus social club. It is composed of upperclasswomen who maintain a "C" average and are elected into the club according to their leadership, friendship, and scholarship.

Outstanding in its activities for the year were a dinner dance for members and friends, an all school dance, and the Delta Kappa Phi-Spur Style Show.

Organized in 1936, primarily as a pep organization composed of freshman boys, the Lancers have continued throughout the past years to maintain a spirit of loyalty and allegiance to Trinity.

Elected by sophomore members of the preceding years on a basis of sportsmanship, leadership, and loyalty, Lancers have been on hand to spur the Tigers to victory and to stand by them in defeat.

Forced to operate without the staunch aid of the Lancerettes, their sister organization which disbanded last year, the Lancers have contributed their best to University activities in 1948.

Membership in the "T" Association hit an all time high with the entrance of Trinity University into the Lone Star Conference. Heading this recently organized association are George Collie, acting president, and Coaches Jack Sanders, "Swede" Engstrom, and Dale N. Morrison, sponsors.

Living true to their motto "Teamwork, Sportsmanship, and Spirit," these Trinity lettermen fostered and promoted interest toward all of the Tigers' athletic events.

High Twelve

Organized with the purpose of binding together the Masons on the campus, and of promoting and fostering the ideals of their fraternity in the University school life, the High Twelve has successfully completed its second year of existence on the Trinity campus. Living in Mary Catherine Hall entitles a girl to become a member of one of the most cosmopolitan, loyal, loosely-organized and closely-knit clubs on the campus.

It entails a variety of activities, ranging from formal Christmas teas to pajama parties, and from moments of leisurely conducted study sessions to hours of seriously conducted bridge parties.

Under the direction of the House Council and the able guidance of Mrs. Georgia B. Bridgers, house mother, the dorm girls have successfully completed another year of companionable living.

Town Club

Forming a median through which non-resident students may meet, have fun, and become more closely organized, the Town Club is rapidly becoming one of the most influential organizations on the campus.

It is through such activities as picnics, hay-rides, and other informal get-togethers that the club is able to add spice to its members' routine of riding buses and attending classes.

Boosting a membership numbering far above that of any other campus organization, the Town Club presents one of the most impressive social events of the school year, the traditional Tigerland Coronation.

Trinity University Players

With such smash hits as "The Merchant of Venice" and "Junior Miss", the hard-working Trinity Players close another chapter in their colorful history as the school year draws to an end.

During the past year the Players' workshop could always be found cluttered with busy dramatic students building stage sets and smashing thumbs in one corner, devising a unique lighting system and getting their wires crossed in another, rehearsing lines and telling jokes in still another, and reserving a special spot for their oldest and most faithful worker — the coffee pot.

In its second year, the Bios Club is a closely knit unit of those students interested in the natural sciences. Films, accompanied by lectures by outstanding people of their fields, keep this group up to date with the latest happenings of the biology world. Much inspiration and exchange of ideas with the great and near great takes place at their meetings.

Armed with pots and pans and the purpose to create an interest in the use and enjoyment of home economics, this organization has completed another year of activity on the campus under the leadership of Miss Joyce Wanner, president. Their main project was to raise enough money through the sale of foods to send a delegate to the state Home Economics Convention. They have also been responsible for the weekly displays on the bulletin board. Monthly informal suppers in town constituted their social calendar.

In its first year of existence on the Tiger campus, the Mental Hygiene Society has held many meetings at which the members heard lectures given by visiting businessmen and psychologists. Highlighting their social year was the delegation of several members to the state meet of the Texas Mental Hygiene Societies, and a special student assembly at which comic books were gathered for the children of the poor of San Antonio.

This year the Scripcrafters, one of the oldest and most active organizations on the Trinity campus, dissolved into the Sigma Tau Delta Chapter, a national fraternity for creative writers. The voiced purpose of the newly formed organization is to promote interest in creative writing, poetry, prose, and journalistic efforts among the students of this University. The highlights of the 1948 year were the Annual Southwestern Poetry Meet, to which entries were made from many sections and colleges in the United States when the meeting occurred in April; and the formal initiation of some 20 members of the Scripcrafters into the Sigma Tau Delta Chapter. Under the able leadership of the sponsors, Mesdames A. J. Robinson and William C. McGavock, and the president, Miss Hilda Goddard, the Sigma Tau Delta holds forth bright promises for the future.

This year marked the beginning of the Women's Recreation Association, familiarly known as WRA. Membership was opened to all interested women students and club activities were met with enthusiasm.

WRA began its activities with a Mock Track Meet and closed them with an all-club hike and picnic. Women's intramurals in softball, volleyball, basketball and tennis were held for the first time on the Trinity campus, and were gratifying in their display of sportsmanship, competition and sheer eagerness to learn.

Still following the age-old tradition of wiping off the smears of printer's ink with one hand while writing copy with the other, the Trinitonian staff signed -30- to the 46th year of the publication of the Trinitonian on the Tiger campus. Starting the '48 year with a new staff to run a weekly newspaper, Don Matthews, the editor, found that he had his hands full in greasing the machines of the Press. However, when the last proofreading pencil was laid aside and the din of the Press Hut had subsided, Don could view with pride his once green reporters, now competent college newspapermen. Through the cooperation of the entire Trinitonian staff and Mrs. A. J. Robinson, the sponsor, the Trinitonian has marked another mile in the pathways of college journalism.

taken" is not restful news when the sports deadline is the next day.

Exciting? Where else can you find so many things wrong, and so many lost pictures, and so many deadlines missed in so few days? Lots of fun? Where else can you find a group of people with a sense of humor which enables them to walk up to the editor and say, "Hey Red, I think those favorite pictures musta flown out the window—can't find them anywhere".

But all joking aside, it has been fun and we did enjoy putting out your 1948 Mirage. In parting, we would like to leave our motto as our final comment—"We who are about to die salute you."

—THE MIRAGE STAFF

What's putting out an annual like? Well, most of the time you have a feeling that you've wandered into a three ring circus just in time to pinch-hit for the guy being shot out of the cannon. In short, it's confusing, terrifying, exciting, and a lot of fun.

Confusing? "Hey, lemme have the typewriter", "Where's the glue?", "Who swiped my ruler?", "Those are my pictures, bonehead, not yours" are typical of the expressions heard floating from the Press Hut when the Mirage staff is at work. Terrifying? "Ye gads! We forgot to have the tennis team pictures

Appreciation of Staff

As the year draws to an end and the annual nears completion, we begin to truly understand the traditional “Editor’s Appreciation of Staff”. For no annual would be possible without a good staff, and every staff deserves appreciation. Therefore, in true annual tradition, we would like to add our thanks to those of the editors who have preceded us.

Thanks to the class editors—D., Sherrill, Jane, Dot, and Henry—who lost, found, traded, and pasted pictures with veteran calmness; who spelled, misspelled, and respelled names by means of dictionaries, student directories, and the registrar’s office; and who read proof with quiet resignation. Thanks to Art Editor, Sergio Velasquez, and his staff, and to Dr. Adah Robinson, whose fine works appear in this book. Thanks to Ralph Jones and his staff who established a new high in Mirage ad sales this year.

Thanks to Mary Ellen Ellis, who spent many “mad moments” attempting to identify the faces in club pictures and who still isn’t quite sure who the “guy on the third row” is. Thanks to Carol Ekloff and Jane Harris who, because they are journalism students, live in the dorm, and happen to be friends of the Editor suddenly found themselves to be official assistant copywriters, and who have done a grand job. Thanks to Leonard Esler who spent many weary hours in the Press Hut putting the Sports section together. Thanks to Joe Bacon who was always there when needed to take a few pictures, and who even came out on Sundays on occasion “cause the weather’s good for outside shots”. And thanks to all those “unofficial” staff members who “just helped out” when help was needed. It is through their efforts, and through your cooperation, that this book has been published. It is your “record of the year”—we hope you like it.

As Seen From the Pressbox

Trinity University bounced back into intercollegiate gridiron circles this year after a highly successful season of informal football in 1947. Tackling a rough slate from the word go, the Tigers came out of the season with a record of five won, three lost and two ties. They finished fourth behind North Texas, East Texas and Southwest Texas in the Lone Star Conference.

In the opening contest of the season, Sept. 20, the Bengals locked horns with the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys in Alamo Stadium. Playing heads up ball throughout the first half before 15,000 fans, the Maroon and White trailed by only 7-0 at the intermission. Great line play, a tribute to line coach Jack Sanders, later named head coach, held the Abilene eleven in check. The lone score came on a lightning-like aerial thrust.

However, the more experienced Hardin-Simmons aggregation extended their winning streak that dated back to 1945 scoring twice in the third quarter and three times in the final go around. Wilton Davis electrified the spectators as he wiggled and squirmed his way through the entire Tiger eleven with the second half kick-off to run the score to 13-0. From that time on, the Bengals could never quite get back into the game, although they fought hard and determined. Coach Warren Woodson of the visitors paid them a well deserved tribute when he said they were the "scrappiest, fightingest" he had ever faced.

The next Saturday, Sept. 27, San Marcos was the battle ground of the Lone Star loop opener as the Triniters met the Bobcats of Southwest Texas State and left San Marcos that night on the long end of a 14-13 score. It was a personal triumph for Walter and Gerald "Dutch" Levermann as they figured in all of the scoring. The fine Tiger forward wall had a personal victory also, as they set a new Lone Star Conference record in holding the Cats to a minus 24 yards gained rushing.

Walter Levermann scampered over with the first tally late in the second period after taking a long heave from brother "Dutch" and added the extra point to run the score 7-0 at the midway rest period. "Dutch" scored the second touch of the evening sweeping end from the two yard marker to end a sustained march. Walter added the game winning point.

Every lineman on the Trinity squad nailed down glory as they continuously stopped the hard running Bobcat backs. The hosts made their first score through the air and drove down field for their second tally, relying mostly on the airways for their yardage. The Tiger pass defense is still a bit weak. Fine running and expert, heads up football was shown by the entire backfield.

October 4, the Bengals returned to Alamo Stadium for an afternoon game in heat that must have been 110 in the shade. Anyway it was mighty hot as the Maroon and White battled the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks to a 0-0 tie before a sparsely populated stadium.

Cast in the role of underdogs, the Lumberjacks came the closest to scoring as they had a field goal attempt thwarted by the hard charging Bengal line. The visitors threatened only once as they were unable to solve the Tiger defensive maneuvers.

Trinity had unnumbered scoring chances only to be thrown for a loss by a bad case of fumbilitis. Four scoring threats were ended by their own fumbles. The closest the Maroon and White could get to pay-off territory was the 20 yard marker.

The Bengal offense was dealt a serious blow when quarterback Tom Daniel suffered a broken shoulder blade in the third period. He was out the rest of the season.

Jack Sanders was named head coach, replacing Bob Coe, and led the Triniters to Brownwood where they ran roughshod over the Daniel Baker Hillbillies 64-7 for their most impressive win of the season. Everything clicked right as Herb Falkenberg chalked up three scores, Gerald Levermann, two; and Ed Mattson, Tommy Watt, Charlie Urbanowich, Jack Hinson and Howard Haack one apiece. The powerful ground game of the Bengals awed the 2500 spectators as the Hillbillies fought gamely but for a lost cause. Even the handful of Trinity rooters that cheered our boys on were sympathizing for the Hillbillies as they were slaughtered.

Ironically enough, it was the hosts that had the last word as their lone score came in the waning moments of play. And ironically it was an end, John Applewhite, who had worked out with Trinity earlier in the season, that caught the scoring pass.

Saving their passing attack for a rainy day, the Tigers chalked up 525 yards on the ground to only 66 yards via air lanes.

Homecoming saw some 4,000 fans, mostly alumni and former students, watch the Tigers roll to a convincing 27-6 victory over the Sam Houston Bearkats in Alamo Stadium for their second loop win in three tries. Ed Mattson was the personal scoring star of the game and main offensive threat, piling up much of the yardage credited to the Bengals. On the first scrimmage play of the game for the Tigers, Mattson slanted over left tackle and raced 70 yards to put his team in the lead which they maintained throughout the game. His fine 34 yard run set up the next touch and he raced his way around right end and through the entire Sam Houston secondary for 64 yards and the third tally of the evening.

Again fumbles kept the Maroon and White from running up an even greater score as two threats were stopped by their own miscues. As a whole, however, the vaunted Tiger attack finally materialized to the expectations of pre-season gossip. Again it was a powerful ground attack that slaughtered the Bearkats with the aerial game still wrapped in moth balls.

University of Houston furnished the opposition for the Trinity eleven next week in the fourth loop game for the Tigers. Invading the Bayou City, the San Antonians emerged with a 20-0 win in a dull, lifeless game underneath a sweltering sun that managed to keep things hot. Wilbert Heineman chalked up two of the scores on interceptions that he ran back for a total of 100 yards. Fine, heads up play provided both of the scores as Heineman returned the oval without the aid of any blocking from Tiger teammates. Ed Mattson scored the other tally. Most of the game was played between the 30 yard lines.

Three hundred loyal students followed the team to Temple for the fifth Lone Star Conference game as the Tigers lost a heartbreaking decision to North Texas, the eventual title holders, 33-7 in sub-freezing weather.

The Eagles scored fast and furious as they made the most of Tiger fumbles and loose play. The crowd had hardly settled when the Denton eleven chalked up their first score and followed up with two more in quick succession. The three scores came on a blocked punt, and two fumbles. The other two touchdowns came as the result of a pass interception and another fumble.

Gerald Levermann connected with brother Walter for the only Tiger score. Walter actually bulled his way over from about the eight yard line with two Eagle defenders on his shoulders for the score. He also added the extra point.

Stout line play by the Tigers after they had settled down kept the Eagles from scoring more. Twice the Denton lads had the ball on the Tiger three yard marker, first and goal and were unable to push the pigskin across.

The Tigers closed their LSC season dropping the finale to East Texas 28-7 on their home field. Battling on even terms for the first half, it was a well knit unit that defeated the Tigers. Jim "Cargo" Batchelor, one of the best passers in the nation, proved the winning spark of the East Texans.

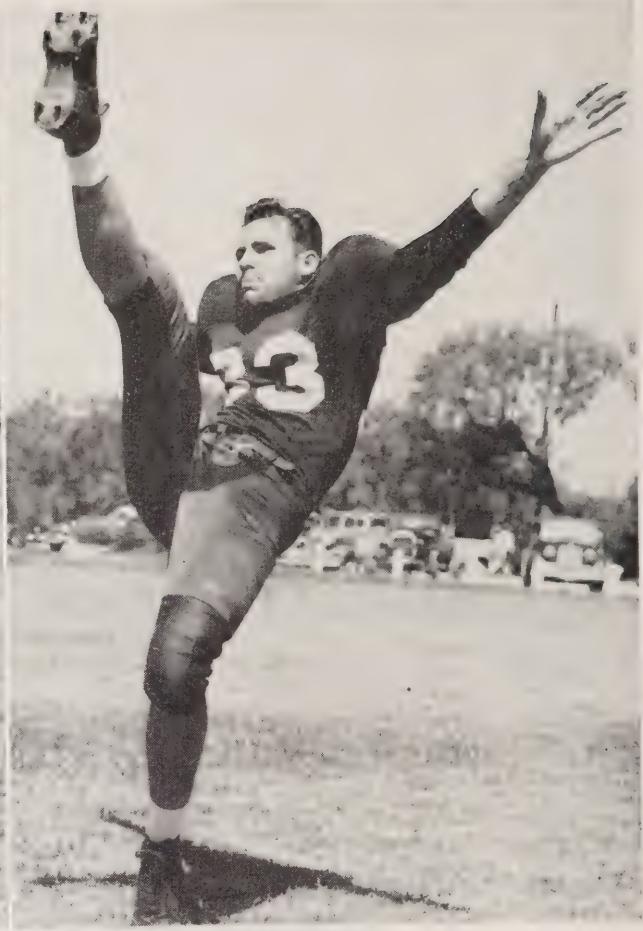

The Tigers traveled to Shreveport for their next to last game of the season and emerged with a 6-6 tie in a game marred by a heavy downpour just prior to the contest and light drizzle mixed with heavy rain throughout the game.

The Bengals closed out their season with a 73-6 rout over Mexico City College. The lads from below the border were entirely outclassed and never should have been on the same field with the Tigers. Ed Mattson had a field day as he scored six touchdowns in two periods. It was in a blaze of glory that the Tigers closed out their successful season.
